ORGANIZATIONS

fireworks and floats set off this years homecoming which was one of the many responsibilities of student government. among their other duties were king and queen of courts, pep rallies and assemblies, and the carnival.

student government worked under north's new constitution which, among other things, incorporated two new activities coordinators and a house of representatives...sophs and juniors are eligible to be activities coordinators, the first student body office open to underclassmen.

new constitution in use student body officers: (standing) scott halverson, vice-president; van taylor, president; jim stanley, treasurer. (kneeling) diane powell, activities coordinator; kim ottinger, corresponding secretary; molly ryan, activities coordinator; dee bowman, recording secretary.

(clockwise from page 18) officers met every 4th hour. scott and dee listen to van talk. kim gets the daily mail. van discusses weeks business. jim counts ballots. mr. murphy served as execs sponsor for another year. molly and diane were the two new activities coordinators.

house involved in curriculum, justice the student house of representatives divided itself into five standing committees: campus, curriculum, student issues, student relations, and judicial committee.

campus committee studied all physical campus improvement, such as remodeling the cafeteria and beautifying the campus. the curriculum committee reviewed and recommended revisions in hopes of creating new classes and having student evaluations of teachers. the student issues committee dealt with administrative policies—presenting the students' views on attendance policies, homeroom, and student rights. the student relations committee concerned themselves with trying to improve relations and relieve tensions between students, teachers, administrators, and the community. the judicial committee handled constitutional matters and became involved in the state and community government.

student government adds house of representatives this year we operated under a new constitution. the major change was the addition of a house of representatives, whose main goal was to make the school serve the students.

consisting of class vice-presidents, class representatives, and a representative from every club, the house discussed such topics of student concern as school policies, student curriculum, and school facilities.

in their meetings, held twice a month, the members of the house learned much about the principles of democracy and representative government, gained leadership, and found self-respect in the democratic directions of north.

poms: mary kay cascario, leah tibbs, mariane maffeo, kay parcks, molly ryan, lu marcum (captain), kathy anderson (co-captain), debbie brannon, vickie corriere, leslie reynolds.

pom and cheer lines are an integral part of every high school. through workshop, tryouts, summer then morning practices and performances, they put in several hours of hard work.

this summer the cheers left the hot desert and spent it up in the mountains at cheerleader camp. the poms this fall, participated in the a.s.u. band day. all in all pom and cheer lines work hard to promote spirit at north.

clockwise: jodi edgar raises spirit at homecoming. poms do different formations as they dance to "life is a song worth singing" at a pep assembly. erahn patton and rosalyne keith relax as they take a break. trying to teach at the pom workshop was no easy job for kay parcks. cheers prepare to jump after "two bits." lu marcum, pom, and kathy velasquez, cheer served as captains.

elections committee: in tree, robert hernandez, alfred ramirez, michael ennis, jim stanley. on ladder, kathy wiitala, cecilia dugan, susan steele, alyce sadongei, manuel periera, dawn nixon.

top-the covered area in front of the auditorium served as the place to vote immediately after the freshman class elections. above- leslie reynolds performs a pom dance to inspire the pep club into doing more cheering.

clubs request involvement elections committee headed by jim stanley, used new locations for student elections with some old methods of voting such as the punching of one's id card. voting in classrooms was tried but problems arose when the committee discovered how low the voter response had been. voting methods were again placed outside during the lunch hours or after the assembly that concerned the election.

pep club contained people wanting to get other people involved in spirit. their appearances came during games and lunchtime activities, a spirited direction of north.

spikettes, matmaids, marvel lend team support year round

what do the matmaids and spikettes really do? they provide our boys with lots of ice and delicious jell-o.

at the cross country meets, the spikettes are placed at intervals on the course to guide the runners. they act as official runners and scorers at the track meets.

the matmaids keep score for the wrestlers; and to give them energy they serve them orange slices. both groups' main purpose is to help support north's teams.

clubs provide free, paid services girls league concentrated on raising the young ladies' awareness. the club raised funds with a car wash, trekked to the north for mistletoe for the blue and silver, and sponsored the christmas formal.

guest speakers explained the e.r.a., equal rights amendment, in consciousness raising meetings which were open to faculty as well as the entire student body.

key club set up the graveyard in their annual spirit raising project. the group reorganized this year and opened membership, the club is sponsored by the kiwanis.

as a matter of fact, madrigals is a culmination of ... hours of practicing; losing your voice; trying to dance while you sing; putting on a polished performance; three little tenors trying to balance with five big basses; four good altos, and five loud sopranos, learning how to smile; learning how to sing; working as a team; the whole team forgetting the music at solo and ensemble; performing at school recitals, the urban league open house, the capital rotunda, and private parties; not being able to find a piano for a christmas performance; being the top singing group at north, and heading in the directions of success.

crazy hats, pep buses, band day, concerts mean long rehearsals for band members women's lib made its appearance in the mustang band. the 96 members performed under the direction of drum majorette jackie jacobs. mr. brewer sponsored all band activities.

the marching band performed in band day festivities at a.s.u. where it received an "excellent" rating.

the pep band presented a pre-game show at tolleson, played for all pep assemblies, and lent their support at the ktar-faculty game.

three members of the band made the all-regional band and orchestra.

reduced advertising because of the economic recession resulted in big cuts in the publications department.

the mustang roundup which is totally dependant upon its advertisers for financial support was able to produce few issues. the paper receives no budget support from the district and must use advertising revenue to pay printing costs.

hoofbeats depends upon income from advertising to pay photography expenses and make up the difference between the actual printing cost of the book and subscription price.

despite financial difficulties, both staffs worked many hours to produce quality publications.

directions of organizations dual registration programs and after-school jobs took their toll on the membership of many clubs while the recession hit hard in the area of fund raising. the usual money makers—car washes, food sales and other projects-added negligible amounts to treasuries. the co-op work clubs flourished in the midst of these problems.

sponsorships were assigned and reassigned because of the changeover in faculty.

continued interest from the students and support of the faculty kept the many traditional groups active.

concerts, competitions, service projects kept caring club members busy and pointed the new direction for organizations.

coaches gallagher and norenburg were gone, replaced by two young and enthusiastic men, coach scott (linemen) and coach roberts (backs). both helped head coach tom futch install spirit into the team.

the highlight of the season came when center paul motteson was named to first team on both the all-division and all-state teams. running back kenny whitfield also made the second team for all-division. angel reynoso, steve ennis, and tracy hickman were named honorable mention-all division.

football awards went to paul motteson, top lineman and number one defensive player, kenny whitfield, back of the year, barry graham, hardest hitter and matthew ross, most improved.

directions of athletics

the girl's athletic association is taking a big leap into athletics. the girls will be able to compete in sports equally with the boys, but competing only with their own sex.

in addition to the girl's volleyball and golf teams, a track team has been formed. ms. fields, coach of the track team, explained that many of the outstanding athletes are already involved in aau clubs and; therefore, ineligible for high school competition. a state meet has been postponed until next year. in the future, one may expect to see girl's softball and basketball teams. another new direction for sports.

HONORS'S HONORS'S HONORS'S

talent, leadership, intellect measured by tests, judges gemco and lucky award winners debated current topic questions at the townhouse for their prizes. betty crocker award winner, debbie germroth, was selected on the basis of a test about family living.

cindy johnson, student board member, served on the students' rights handbook committee.

national merit commended students rank in the top two percent of the 1975 graduates to take the nmsqt test.

optimists feted outstanding students in the fields of arts, science and letters at a banquet.

all-region band, chorus, and orchestra auditioned for all-state berths. jeanette dugan played second chair, all-region orchestra; jackie jacobs played first chair band.

n.h.s. recognizes academic prowess being a member of the national honor society means having a sense of pride. members are chosen out of the top 5% of their junior class by a faculty honors committee. new members are induced each may from the top 5% of the junior class and the top 10% of the senior class.

being a member of the national honor society also means being active with a book sale, a cook-out, and the spring pioneer picnic.

"i think being a member of the national honor society is an honor and adds a little more to your senior year in high school. it is also a good recommendation for admission to college."

being a member of the national honor society means being a leader in the academic directions of north.

students honored by students monthly students - of - the - month were nominated by fellow students and staff members in recognition of their achievements and contributions to north high.

final selection of the som was made by executive committee from those nominated.

students-of-the-month: (left) top-kenny whitfield, october, bottom-paul matten-son, january (above) executive committee considers nominations for student of the month award.

the direction of honors

the success of the honors program is the result of students who take the time to fill out applications and pay fees to have a chance at an award, counselors who inform students of available awards and honors, and a few concerned community organizations and businesses that provide youths with opportunities for financial aid based on talent, leadership, and intelligence.

tradition plays a role in the honors program in that the titles are the same from year to year. the student-of-the-month awards have been awarded since their introduction by the optimists, a service club. some now receive certificates instead of a trophy and a luncheon. the survival of the honors program will depend on future concern in the directions of north.

juniors led by ladies

during a year of economic recession, the class of '76, led by three female officers, struggled to raise money for the prom. with inflation forcing the cost of facilities and bands up and recession making money scarce, the ladies led their classmates through a year of many and varied fund raising projects.

the junior class was sponsored by two department heads, ms judy beuchel (home ec) and mr. hank thomas (science).

junior class officers: diane fernandez, vice president; jennifer steele, president; terry cass, secretary-treasurer

sophomores build spirit, treasury school spirit won class of the quarter first quarter for the sophomore class. to encourage more spirit, class officers made sophomore buttons, and class members sold spirit pennants.

sponsoring the homecoming dance added $285 to the treasury. m&m sales gave the class an additional $200 toward the '76 prom.

class sponsors were miss rosen-thal and mr. harris.

*Hi Marlin.
Remember this class. Even though
I don't know ya
very well you
are nice.
I hope
you have good luck in the future.
Love,
Rona*

frosh vary old directions

the open system within the phoenix union high school district brings many students to north from the five different elementary schools within our area as well as from other grade schools all over the city.

to help the students learn about what the city has to offer, the social studies department offered a course to frosh aimed at acquainting them with the phoenix community. mr. scott taught living and working in phoenix.

the class was sponsored by mr. carl wagner and miss judy beckmark.

direction of classes

reading, writing, 'rithmetic, the three r's every student should know. now proficiency tests make sure they do know their reading and math, and soon their writing as well.

new directions of north include the dropping of traditional courses such as calculus and sociology due to low enrollment. the reading department has expanded to meet the academic needs of today's students, while the work programs have grown in variety and size to meet their economic needs.

student - planned curriculum seems to emphasize high school graduation, rather than college preparation. a new direction in classes at north high.

this year's homecoming began with a "bang"! fireworks highlighted the beginning and end of each quarter of the game. also, this year honored the class of 1971. "nostalgia" returned to north with the girls in bobby socks and ponytails and the guys in dark shades and slicked down hair. "happy days" was the theme for the floats, with the juniors placing first. they were judged on originality, completeness, and general appearance.

following the judging, "master of ceremonies", coach and counselor, mr. martin announced the 1974-75 teacher of the year, speech coach mr. bruce trexler. he sure wasn't speechless!

last year's queen, cheryl myers, was present at half-time to crown queen candidate and co-captain of the cheerline, carol robinson. filling in for last year's king, dan moody, keith randall handed over the medallion to king candidate and great cross country runner, trini balderrama. the band, twirlers, poms, madrigals, cheers, and jrotc performed during the halftime.

the game concluded with the mustangs beaten by the panthers 46-6 and the homecoming dance in the corral.

"up the down staircase" another drama hit at north

"up the down staircase" put on by the north high little theater was a big hit; one of the highlights of the year! the action on stage intrigued the many veiwers and aroused much laughter and applause. the hard working drama students, directed by vandi schilleci, were all excellent.

pam bunting, a junior at north this year, portrayed the sensitive young teacher with a natural talent for acting, and understanding of her part. in the lead role as sylvia barrett, she was vivacious, yet appropriately subtle.

the many hours of rehearsals were rewarded by the audience's approval. the familiar setting, the classroom, involved many students in the plot; and allowed them to relate to the students and their problems.

editors message

in this yearbook, the staff, our advisor and i have tried to present a realistic view of north high. trying to produce something other than a collection of portrait and candid pictures has been a challenge because of past yearbook policy. the plans for this book were made with optimism and quality in mind. deadlines, a staff of 24 reduced to less than a dozen, a poor economy and an unbelievable lack of organization has prevented this book from being what i wished to present to the student body, however, i present hoofbeats 1975 with pride knowing how much time has been put into it. i once explained to the staff that it is always worth taking more time to produce something really good. i hope they practice this during their lives. layout staff members, molly, jackie, kay, kathy, laurie, greg and terry; photographers, jerry, greg, tony, raul, katy and jay; ad manager; van; copy staff, karol, brenda and jeff, all of you, thanks for redoing layouts, re-printing pictures until an ultimate is reached, returning phone calls daily and changing the conotation of a particular sentence for me. i believe it bettered the book. i must offer a thanks and apology to mrs. tomi fields who was abused by the staff and myself. i hope she remembers those 2:30 am deadlines with as much happiness as i will.

new administration means new directions—new people, new duties, new programs two new administrative assistants and a new position for mrs. workman gave a new look to the administrative offices.

mrs. workman, who came to north in 1954 as dean of girls, became the new associate principal.

miss mizerny, formerly a camelback counselor, replaced mrs. workman as administrative asst. she had charge of activities, public relations, and discipline.

mr. powers, administrative asst., moved to north from his position as athletic department chairman at maryvale.

mrs. carolyn warner, member and past president of the school board, was elected state superintendant of education. she moved from the puhss board room to her new office in january, 1975.

guidance, services aid students guidance and services offered new programs for both the exceptional and ordinary student.

the counseling-guidance offices and career center were moved to their newly remodeled LA 47. the career center helped students learn about various career fields and themselves through seminars, field trips, and vocational tests.

special classes were available for those students with hearing, seeing, speaking, or learning problems through trained clinicians and the new learning disabilities program.

faculty, guidance, and services departments worked together to help each student realize his full potential and prepare for his future.

new programs stress skills two new courses were introduced by the social studies department. living and learning in phoenix, an elective course for freshmen, introduced students to their city.

sophomores signed into arizona government, a one semester course, to satisfy a new state requirement for their graduation.

computers were used in english and foreign language to teach basic grammar skills.

title I programs in reading and english provided students with individualized help in mastering basic skills in these two areas.

h.e.r.o., photography, title I, girls sports—new directions

h.e.r.o., home economics related occupations, was added to the work experience programs offered by the business and industrial arts departments.

the title I program in math emphasized basic skills and helped students prepare for the required minimum proficiency test in arithmetic skills.

students learned both artistic and vocational skills in the new class in photography offered by the industrial arts department.

new faculty members were added to point the students who elected to take these new courses in new directions.

many people keep north running smoothly keeping the buildings and grounds clean, distributing athletic eligibility cards, keeping attendance records and class schedules up to date, serving hot meals, keeping the campus safe, ordering and selling texts, and many other behind-the-scenes operations are necessary to keep north high running smoothly for students and faculty.

direction of faculty

new technology and renewed public interest in basic skills and scholarship enabled the faculty to take new directions in personalizing each student's education. through the use of computers, special programs, and labs, teachers encouraged each student to achieve his academic potential.

both the faculty and students mourned the passing of dorothea white. during her twenty-five years in the phoenix union high school system, mrs. white opened the library at west and at camel-back. she joined the english faculty at north in 1962 where she is remembered for her energy, enthusiasm, steadfastness in holding to standards of both behavior and performance, her willingness to share her talents and ideas with others, and her interest in her students.

a scholarship fund was established to provide a living memorial to this lady's lifelong dedication to students and education.

GRADUATE: IF YOU'RE WONDERING...

You have a tough choice. Picking a career with a good future—with free training — from one of over 400 jobs. Deciding where to go free during your 30 days paid vacation the first year. Knowing that all your medical/dental expenses are taken care of, and that your food, housing and clothing are free. Taking responsibility immediately after training in one of many locations around the world. Yes, it's a tough choice. You'll love every minute of it.

Hi Marlin,

You know you really can be a pest sometimes, but despite that fact I think you are a real cute guy (sorry Jennie). One sentence for Jennie - I think you are making a mistake, but if you can handle him have fun. Back to Marlin... if you would call me by my name instead of your pet-nicknames I would appreciate it. But boys will be boys. Remember all the times in Drafting boy you haven't changed any. Stay decent. Have fun. Hope you the best in the future - You'll need it.

Love
Pam Cole

Hi Dear,

How's my good looking ^{boyfriend} doing?

I just ~~so~~ wanted to say that I'm really glad that I met you, you made my life so good. I'm really glad that we found each other. Even if I am still going to East for a while I'll still love you, nothing can stop me from loving you.

I hope that I get to North soon so I can be with you all day and everyday. You a good kid Brown and Spivey Loves You very much.

And remember from 11 on will be having a lot of good times. And I'm really looking ~~for~~ forward to the

Love Ya' always
Jennie

P.S. Mustangs aren't bad
But Longhorns are still better (Not really) day.

To Marlin,
To Marlin a real far out honkey I met this year and last year too!! Please change keep out of trouble and have a good summer with all your chicks. Later on,
Denny
Denny "77"

Marlin,
Been great knowing
this year again this year. Keep cool during the summer. See
ya next year.
Jim

Marlin,
It's been fun
in English messing
around. We didn't know each other that well but I think you are pretty neat. Best of luck.
Carol "77"

Marlin, was English, was interesting wasn't. Ha Ha
Good luck

Denise

Marlin,
How have you been?
Haven't got to talk to you to much this year but hope to next year. Have fun this summer.

Marlin,
You are a real intelligent Dude who always stays cool.
It's been so cool having you in my class.

Marlin,
It was fun in photography. Although I think you should of printed something other than the girl on the beach.
Have a fun summer.

Marlin
It's kind of hard to know that your pass just this class It's been a while
good luck
next year

Mr. Brown,
It was a pleasure being in your geometry class. It was really hip sitting there coping off your paper. Good luck in the summer.
Have fun in the summer.
Clavin Jang

Marlin,
You are a great photographer and a nice person. But remember, I have to go. See you next year, I hope!
Becki Felton

"76"

Marlin
Thanks for answers
in English! Don't get married yet. Practice and lift. Maybe you will be a decent wrestler next year.

Nichols

Marlin I didn't really get to know you that good but I am sure you're a good friend to have. I understand you are on the wrestling team I use to but I quit, as well
see you later
Bernardo Sanchez

Marlin
 had a good year here at north because we can use one every
 in a while. Hope you will see you with and now I'll leave you with two famous words. "Viva Mexico!"

 To a fellow Photographer I hope you keep up the good work in photo and I hope you will have a good year for the next one after Christmas Behnlander (15)

Marlin, I've been a great year. I had to laugh when at the first of the year Mr.
 Thompson called Marlyn. Be Good.

Marlin,
It sure has been fun in photo
this year. You a very good photographer and if you stick with it I'll get you a job for
